Radlett Music Club

Since 1936 the club has been presenting artistes of the highest quality and this year is no exception. Included within our varied programme we are very pleased to welcome the young pianist Lara Melda, winner of the 2010 BBC Young Musician of the Year competition. She is a past student of the Purcell School, and for the first time we are also featuring a concert by current pupils there. And following our very successful concert with the Burning Bush in 2011, we are presenting the popular Klezmer group, She'koyokh, in February 2014.

Our informal concerts are held mostly at the Radlett Centre, with its excellent seating, attractive bar for coffee or drinks, and easy free local parking. With the exception of the Klezmer concert seats are unreserved so you can choose your favourite spot to sit.

You are welcome to come and pay at any individual concert or become a season-ticket member, whereby you can attend all six concerts and save more than 27% on normal door prices – 31% if you are a Senior Citizen. Members are also of course entitled to attend our Annual General Meeting, with entertainment and refreshments.

The Application Form is printed overleaf; we would be delighted if you would join us and support your local music club.

About the Artistes

SACCONI STRING QUARTET. The Quartet was founded in 2001 by four graduates of the Royal College of Music and has achieved widespread recognition, having given recitals in leading British concert halls and at music festivals in Britain and across Europe. They have won a number of major prizes in string quartet and chamber music competitions and are recognised worldwide for their energy, creativity and integrity of interpretation. They have their own record label, Sacconi Records, and their Ravel and Haydn discs have been featured in Classic FM's Full Works programme.

LARA MELDA, piano. At the age of sixteen, Lara won the BBC Young Musician 2010 competition, performing with Vasily Petrenko and the BBC National Orchestra of Wales. She is currently a student at the Royal College of Music, but simultaneously pursues a busy concert career in many leading venues, including Kings Place, Cadogan Hall, St. John's Smith Square and the Wigmore Hall. She also performs regularly in Turkey and made her debut at the International Music Festival in Istanbul in 2011, playing the Grieg piano concerto. In 2012 she received the prestigious "Promising Young Artist" award from Kadir Has University.

STUDENTS OF THE PURCELL SCHOOL. The Purcell School in Bushey is a boarding and day school for young musicians, and is Britain's oldest specialist music school; its students feature regularly in the BBC Young Musician of the Year competition. The school provides a rounded education with music at its heart, together with an enviable academic record, some of the best instrumental teachers available and close links with the music profession. We are pleased to be linking up with this local music school and featuring some of its leading students.

SHE'KOYOKH, klezmer group. She'Koyokh is a Yiddish expression meaning "nice one!". The band formed in 2001, playing klezmer music – the instrumental Jewish wedding music of Eastern European communities. The group became fascinated by Gypsy music and folk music of the Balkans, travelling to Romania, Bulgaria, Turkey and Greece to study with master musicians. She'Koyokh were hailed by the world music magazine Songlines as Britain's best klezmer and Balkan music band, and were winners of the Netherlands' International Jewish music competition. The group have released two albums by ARC Music, the latest of which received a five-star review in Songlines.

In 2010 she graduated with a first-class honours degree from the GSMD and was awarded the Dove Memorial Prize for being the highest marked graduate across any discipline.
